

November 2022

Dear circular economy community,

We currently find ourselves between two COPs at which the circular economy is seen as part of the solution. The discussion during the COP 27 side event on the circular economy's potential to combat climate change and biodiversity loss, will continue in a similar vein during the COP 15. Keep an eye on our event webpage!

Staying within the international sphere, the World Circular Economy Forum 2022 (WCEF2022) will take place on 6-8 December 2022. Our accelerator session at the WCEF2022 on 8 December 2022 from 13:30 to 15:00 CET will focus on the role of network governance: building a coalition of partners willing to contribute to transformational changes will promote the implementation of circular economy roadmaps at national and local levels.
